

Return to www.leatherclinic.co.uk

Extract from:
"A Complete Guide to Leather Care & Restoration" by LTT

Lazy Leather[®] – The 5 minute care plan

Dirt and body oils that are allowed to remain on the leather surface for prolonged periods are the main cause of damage to leather furniture and dye transfer is of particular concern to owners of pale and cream suites.

The best way to ensure your leather remains in the best condition is to ensure that it remains clean.

Lazy Leather[®] is a simple to use and very effective product for maintaining your leather furniture and it should only take 5 minutes to maintenance clean the average sofa.

Regular use of Lazy Leather[®] on the high wear areas (this is maintenance cleaning) will ensure that soiling (and dye transfer) is not allowed to build up. The protection element left on the surface will help to resist staining from spills and make cleaning more effective each time.

Lazy Leather[®] contains everything necessary to clean, protect and maintain your leather in excellent condition if used from new or as a maintenance product between professional or deep cleaning.

For very sensitive leathers or pale colours in high use areas always use

LTT Leather Protect (<http://www.leatherclinic.co.uk/product.asp?product=2>)

or

LTT Ultra Protect (<http://www.leatherclinic.co.uk/subcategory.asp?category=4>)

(which will give a great protective barrier) as an initial treatment.

Heavily soiled leathers will benefit from a deep or professional clean before beginning a Lazy Leather[®] maintenance regime.

Lazy Leather[®] is safe to use on all leather finishes except for Nubuck or Suede.

©LTT2008

LTTLtd
www.leatherclinic.co.uk
www.LTTleathercare.co.uk